Section F. Certification

23. I certify that:

I will use any money I receive from federal or institutional financial aid programs only for expenses related to my studies at The George Washington University Law School.

I do not owe a refund on a federal student grant or have made satisfactory arrangements to repay it; I am not in default on any federal student loan or have made satisfactory arrangements to repay it; and I have not borrowed in excess of the loan limits under the Title IV program at any institution. I will notify GW Law School if I default on a federal student loan.

I understand that The George Washington University Law School reserves the right to modify financial aid commitments at any time because of changes in my financial, marital, or academic status, or changes in the availability of GW institutional funds. I agree to notify immediately the Law School Financial Aid Office at any time during the academic year of changes that may affect my financial situation, e.g., a change in my enrollment or marital status.

I understand that it is my responsibility to pay my University obligations (tuition, fees, etc.) in a timely manner according to published deadlines and that failure to do so may result in my being prevented from registering for a subsequent semester, and in the possible cancellation of my enrollment at The George Washington University Law School.

The information I have provided in this form is true and correct.
