Intern Positions: OPR currently has two legal intern positions available for the Summer 2018. The positions are full-time with a minimum commitment of eight weeks.

- If the student is accepted for a position and would like to obtain academic credit for their work, OPR will work with the legal intern and his/her school.

Volunteer Legal Intern Positions. The Office of Professional Responsibility (OPR) is a component within the U.S. Department of Justice that investigates allegations of professional misconduct involving Department attorneys. Legal interns work closely with OPR attorneys to investigate (collect and review information and interview witnesses and subjects), analyze the law and the facts, and draft reports of investigation.

OPR investigations may involve matters from any component of the Department, including the 93 U.S. Attorney’s Offices nationwide, Department Divisions (Criminal, Civil, Civil Rights, Tax, etc.), and components (FBI, DEA, ATF, etc.). OPR interns research legal issues related to the law and the rules of professional conduct; conduct factual analysis; write memoranda and reports; and perform other tasks as required.

OPR is located in the Robert F. Kennedy Building, 950 Pennsylvania Ave., N.W., Washington, D.C.

Qualifications: Students must be enrolled in an accredited law school and have completed the second year of law school by the time the internship starts. An interest in criminal law, professional responsibility, or legal ethics is helpful. OPR seeks students with excellent legal research and critical analytic thinking skills, and excellent writing capability. Must be a United States citizen.

Time Required: The work schedule is flexible to accommodate the student’s schedule. The summer internships are 40 hours per week for a minimum of eight weeks.

Application Materials: If you would like to apply for a position in OPR’s legal intern program, please send a cover letter, resume, three professional references, law school transcript (official or unofficial), and an analytic writing sample by e-mail to lyn.hardy@usdoj.gov.

Application Deadline: The position is open until filled. We encourage early enrollment as hiring is on a rolling basis.

Salary: Volunteer (without compensation).
